

Starting Out

Episode 13 – Horoscopes

Julia: I'll have this magazine, please. How much is it?

Shop assistant: It's 95 pence.

Julia: Here you are.

Shop assistant: Thanks. ... Here's your change, 5p.

Sammy: A packet of chewing gum and two cans of cola, please.

Shop assistant: That's 65p and two pounds 20 ... That's two pounds 85, please.

Sammy: Here you are.

Shop assistant: Five pounds. So that's one pound, two pounds and 15 pence change. ... Oh, lovely!

Sammy: What magazine's that?

Julia: It's a gossip magazine. It's about famous people. Look!

Sammy: Oh, yeah. That's Paul McCartney.

Julia: And there's an article here about the Royal Family.

Sammy: Oh! Horoscopes! I love horoscopes. When's your birthday?

Julia: The 18th of June.

Sammy: So you're a Gemini.

Julia: When's your birthday?

Sammy: Fifteenth of November. I'm a Scorpio.

Julia: What does it say about me?

Sammy: It says, 'Today you are with the love of your life.'

Julia: Really?! And what does it say about you?

Sammy: It says, 'Today the love of your life is with you.'

Julia: Wow! That's amazing. Let me see. ... It doesn't say that! Mine says, 'Problems with money. A good day to stay at home.'

Sammy: Ah, does it?

Julia: And yours says, 'A bad day for love.'

Sammy: Well, it's silly anyway. It isn't true. Chinese zodiac's much better. When were you born?

Julia: In 1991.

Sammy: So you're a goat.

Julia: Well, that's not very nice.

Sammy: Oh, it is! Goats are great. They're artistic and sociable.

Julia: And you?

Sammy: I was born in 1990. I'm a horse.

Julia: And horses are ...?

Sammy: Of course. They are intelligent, strong and honest.

Julia: Honest?
