

While you listen

Download the LearnEnglish Elementary podcast. You'll find all the details on this page:
<http://learnenglish.britishcouncil.org/elementary-podcasts/series-01-episode-03>

While you listen, read and answer the questions below.

Section 1

1. What do you find out about Ravi? Tick all the things that are true.
There may be more than one right answer.

- a) Ravi has a new shirt.
- b) They didn't have his size in the shop.
- c) The shop assistant liked the shirt.
- d) Ravi paid £80 for the shirt.

Section 2

2. What does Martin tell us about Jonathan Ive? Tick all the things that are true – there may be more than one right answer.

- a) He works for the Apple computer company.
- b) He invented the iPod.
- c) He designed the iMac computer.
- d) He doesn't like publicity.

Section 3

3. How many yellow things can Marina think of? Tick the right number.

- a) four
- b) five
- c) six
- d) seven

Section 4

4. What do you know about the vuvuzuela? Tick all the phrases you think are true. Remember there may be more than one right answer.

- a) People play the vuvuzuela at football matches.
- b) It sounds like an angry elephant.
- c) Not everyone likes the sound of the vuvuzuela.
- d) It's very easy for a beginner to play the vuvuzuela.

Section 5

5. How many people on 'Your Turn' say they play – or played – football? Tick the right number.

- a) one
- b) two
- c) three
- d) four

Section 6

6. What do we learn about Carolina in this section? Tick all the things you think are true. Remember that there may be more than one right answer.

- a) She gets her bag back.
- b) She has to get to King's Cross station.
- c) She changed some money in the airport.
- d) She's got a credit card.

7. What do you find out about the London underground system? Tick all the things you think are true.

- a) People call it the tube.
- b) You can buy a ticket on the train.
- c) You need your ticket to leave the station.
- d) You have to change trains to get from Heathrow airport to Kings Cross station.

Section 7

8. What does the man buy for his parrot? Tick the things you think are true.

- a) a swimming pool
- b) a mirror
- c) food

Answers: see Answer page at the end of this document

Section 1 – "Is that a new shirt?" – Making comments on a friend's clothes

Transcript

Tess: You're very smart today Ravi. Is that a new shirt you're wearing?

Ravi: Yes - lovely isn't it.

Tess: But you told me you're trying to save money. You said "no more new clothes".

Ravi: Well, I know, but, well, you know me Tess. I saw it in the shop and I liked it, so I had a look at it, but they didn't have my size, so I thought oh well, never mind and then I looked again and they did have my size, so I thought, well I'll try it on but I won't buy it, and then I tried it on and of course it looked fantastic, and the shop assistant said it looked really good, and I still thought no, I won't buy it, and then I looked at the price, and it was quite expensive so I thought, no I can't buy it, and then the shop assistant said that it was in the sale – last week it was eighty pounds, but this week it was only forty pounds, that's half price ... so I bought it.

Tess: Forty pounds!! For a shirt!!

Ravi: But look at it - it's a great shirt. We have to dress well now Tess – we're celebrities.

Tess: This is a podcast Ravi! It isn't MTV! Nobody can see you.

Ravi: Ah – that's true, but I feel well-dressed, that's the important thing.

Tom's tip

In the UK, it is common for friends to comment on each other's clothes. But you need to be friends. Sometimes it may not be appropriate to make these comments. The person may be embarrassed, or think that you are being too personal. At work, it may depend on your position in the company. Always be careful: watch the person to make sure that they feel comfortable. If they look at you strangely, it's best to stop!

Section 1 - Exercise 1

Now look at this dialogue between Helen and Stella and put the phrases in the box in the right places. You can compare your answers with the text on the answer page.

I feel really good in it	It really suits you	it was only £40	Is that
Was it very expensive?	looking very nice	Not bad at all	it looks
Where did you get it?	You look a bit like	so I tried it on Helen: You're _____ today Stella. _____ a new dress?

Stella: Yes, it is. Do you like it?

Helen: It's great. _____.

Stella: Thanks. I'm not sure about the colour. I don't usually wear red.

Helen: Don't be silly, _____ fantastic. It goes really well with your skin colour.

Stella: _____
That little shop at the top of the road, you know, next to the café. I went in there yesterday looking for a T shirt, and then I saw this. They had them in other colours too, I wanted the black really...

Helen: You always wear black!

Stella: ...but they only had red ones in my size, _____, and I really liked it.

Helen: _____

Stella: No. It wasn't in the sale, but _____, well £39.99 actually. I think that's cheap for a dress nowadays.

Helen: _____ . You should have bought two!

Stella: I might go back tomorrow and get another one. _____ .

Helen: _____ Kate Moss.

Stella: Kate Moss! I wish! Did you see that article about her in the paper yesterday? Apparently she uses this really expensive face cream all over her body. It costs about a thousand pounds for a pot or something.....

Tom's tip

You need to be good friends with someone to ask questions about how much things cost. Notice that Helen doesn't ask Stella "How much did the dress cost?". She is more polite. She only asks "Was it very expensive?" Stella can then decide if she wants to tell Helen the price or not. If you want to be even more polite, you can say "I hope you don't mind me asking, but..." – it's a very useful phrase!

Section 1- Exercise 2

Here's a summary of Helen and Stella's dialogue. Can you remember the phrases that Helen and Stella used?

- Helen: Tells Stella she looks good. She asks if the dress is new.
 Stella: Answers and asks what Helen thinks.
 Helen: Gives her opinion.
 Stella: Answers and mentions the colour of the dress.
 Helen: Says something else about the dress. Asks where Stella got it.
 Stella: Talks about the shop and what happened.
 Helen: Asks if the dress was expensive.
 Stella: Answers
 Helen: Comments on the price.
 Stella: Says how the dress makes her feel.
 Helen: Makes another comment.
 Stella: Responds and then moves the conversation to another topic.

Section 1 - Exercise 3

Now you can practise the conversation with a friend, or you can write the dialogue in the space below.

You:	Comment on your friend's appearance
Friend:	Respond
You:	Ask if X is new
Friend:	Answer
You:	Make another comment
Friend:	Respond
You:	Ask where your friend got X
Friend:	Explain where, and talk about what happened
You:	Ask about the price

Friend:	Answer
You:	Make a comment
Friend:	Say how X makes you feel
You:	Make a comment.
Friend:	Respond and move the conversation on to another topic

Section 2 – I'd like to meet

You listened to Martin from Glasgow talking about why he would like to meet Jonathan Ive. Is there a famous designer that you'd like to meet? It might be a designer like Jonathan Ive or a fashion designer or even an architect. If you can think of someone, make some notes to answer these questions:

- What's his/her name?
- What nationality is he/she?
- If he/she isn't alive now, when did he/she live?
- What did he/she design?
- Why do you like the things he/she designs?
- Do you like the person or just the designs?
- What would you like to talk to him/her about?
- What questions would you like to ask him/her?

Now put your notes together to write a paragraph about the person and why you'd like to meet him/her. If you want, you can send your paragraph to learnenglishpodcast@britishcouncil.org. You can read the transcript on the next page.

Transcript

Ravi: So Martin, which famous person, dead or alive would you like to meet?

Martin: I'd like to meet Jonathan Ive.

Ravi: Jonathan Ive? I don't know who he is.

Martin: Not very many people know his name – he’s English but he works for Apple, the computer company - he joined the company in 1992 – he’s a vice president now I think - and he’s the man who designed the iMac and the iPod.

Ravi: Wow. The man who invented the iPod!

Martin: No, he didn’t invent it – he’s a designer, he designed it. He’s designed other things too, of course, but the iMac and the iPod are my favourites – they’re design classics.

Tess: OK. And why did you choose Jonathan ...

Martin: I’ve. Jonathan Ive.

Tess: ...Jonathan Ive to talk about today?

Martin: Well, I’m a student and I study design – industrial design. And for anyone who studies industrial design, well, Jonathan Ive is the king, you know, he’s a genius, he’s the most important industrial designer in the world. The most important thing for industrial designers is function - you know – what something is used for, what it can do. And with computers speed was the most important thing. Nobody cared what they looked like, people just wanted them to be fast, really fast. But when Jonathan Ive designed the iMac for Apple, he designed something beautiful, and people loved it. It was still a good computer and very easy to use, but they also loved the way it looked – the round shape, the colours – and they all bought it, it was very, very popular. I got my first iMac in 1999 - it was orange, bright orange – it was beautiful - and I think that was the moment when I first decided to be a designer.

Ravi: And what about the iPod?

Martin: Well, the iPod looks fantastic too. It’s another example of perfect design. First, it’s a fantastic idea – it changed the way that millions of people listen to music – even the Queen’s got an iPod. And then, it’s really easy to use, and finally, it’s incredibly beautiful, it’s beautiful to look at - that’s what perfect design is. And that’s why he’s my hero.

Tess: And is there a special question that you’d like to ask Jonathan Ive?

Martin: I’d like to know why he doesn’t want to be famous, why he doesn’t like publicity. Perhaps he’s shy - but he never talks about his personal life, he never goes to social events, you never see his picture in magazines. Everyone in the world knows the iMac and the iPod, but nobody knows the name Jonathan Ive. I suppose I’d like to ask him how he feels about that.

Ravi: Well, I’ve learnt something today.

Tess: So have I. Thank you very much Martin.

Martin: You’re welcome.

Ravi: I’d like to know what the Queen listens to on her iPod!

Section 3 – Quiz

In the quiz, Marina and Ricky tried to think of yellow things. An exercise like this is a good way to learn more vocabulary. Here, we’re going to think about things that are red, white, or blue.

Look at the words below and decide which colour they are. Then write them on the spidergram.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a cucumber a fire engine a frog a lime a polar bear a strawberry a swimming pool a tomato a washing machine blood grass jeans milk snow the sea the sky
--	--

Can you think of some things that are black or brown? Add them.
--	---

Section 4 – Our person in

You listened to Bob talking about the vuvuzuela – a strange musical instrument that people play at football matches in South Africa.

Think about a sports event in your country – any kind of sport. Is there anything that you think makes it different from sports event in other countries?

Think about these questions:

- What kind of sport is it?
- Does it happen in a stadium? a sports hall? in the street?
- How often does it happen?
- Do people sing songs or do anything unusual?
- What do people eat and drink?
- Do you take part?

Now put your notes together to write a paragraph about the sports event and what makes it unusual. If you want you can send your paragraph to learnenglishpodcast@britishcouncil.org. The transcript is on the next page.

Transcript

Tess: The next part of the podcast is called 'Our person in'. Every week we listen to people in interesting places all over the world tell us something about life in the country they're in. Today it's Bob Harrison's turn. Bob lives in South Africa and he's going to tell us about a very unusual musical instrument. Bob is 'Our Man in South Africa'.

Bob: If you're a football fan you'll know that the World Cup in 2010 will take place here in South Africa. When the famous names and the big stars walk out into the stadiums in 2010 they will hear a sound they've never heard before – the 'vuvuzela'.
The 'vuvuzela' is almost a musical instrument – but not quite – and you hear it at every football match in South Africa. It's about a metre long and it sounds a bit like an angry elephant. When you hear a stadium full of fans blowing their 'vuvuzelas' the sound is something you'll never forget.
Football is very popular in South Africa. The stadiums fill up early with fans – especially when the South African national team – called the 'Bafana Bafana' by their fans – are playing. The smell of food is everywhere – barbecued chicken or beef are very popular choices for football matches. And everywhere the sound of 'vuvuzelas'.
Not everyone loves this strange music. Some fans say they've stopped going to matches because the noise is so awful and so, well, noisy. But as for me, well, I like it. I think it makes football matches in South Africa different from anywhere else in the world. The only thing is – I can't play the 'vuvuzela'! When I blow it doesn't sound like an angry elephant so much as a bored bee. I need to practise before 2010!

Section 5 – Your turn

In 'Your Turn' you heard 5 people answer this question:
Why don't more people watch women's football?
What do you think?

Here are some things that people mentioned.

- Men aren't interested in watching women playing football.
- In most countries football is seen as a 'man's sport'.
- Lots of girls play football at school.
- Women's football isn't as violent as men's football
- Most people don't know about women's football – there's no advertising.
- There isn't a proper professional women's league
- Women's football isn't as good as men's football.

Which ones do you agree with? Write down your opinion – Why don't more people watch women's football?

You can read the Transcript on the next page

Transcript

Tess: Now it's time for 'Your turn'. In this part of the show, we go outside to find out what people think. And today we're going to stay on the subject of football. We've just heard about the World Cup in 2010, but how many people know about another World Cup in 2007? - the women's world cup. Do you watch women's football? Or maybe play it? Do you like it? Is it better than men's football? Why don't more people watch or play women's football? Why is men's football so much more popular than women's football? So here's the question for today 'Why don't more people watch women's football'?

Ravi: Good question Tess. 'Why don't more people watch women's football'? Let's listen to the answers.

Voice 1: Well, I don't watch women's football because I don't like football, and that's that. All the football fans I know are men – so of course they like to watch men play. They'd only want to watch women if they were, you know, attractive - wearing little tight T-shirts and very small shorts – that's most men's attitude. I can't understand why women want to play football anyway, it's a ridiculous game – don't they have anything better to do with their time?

Voice 2: I think it's just traditional in a lot of countries that football is a man's game. I used to play 'football' – we call it soccer - at home in the States actually. It's really big there - girls and boys play together at school. There are about 7 million women who play regularly in the States. I think it's because your football is quite new as a sport in the States so we don't really see it as a man's game – we don't have the same tradition. It's a game for everybody.

Voice 3: I love watching women's football. I play at school, lots of girls do. My mum says I'm football crazy. I'm in the school team and I want to play professionally one day. Girls play better than boys – they don't lie down on the ground and cry and pretend they're hurt and they don't argue with the referee all the time. And they aren't violent, they don't try to hurt each other.

Voice 4: People don't watch it because they don't know about it. Lots of girls and women play football nowadays – the problem is getting people to pay to watch it. We need to take women's football more seriously, we need advertising and companies to sponsor games and teams, we need a proper professional women's league with good pay and conditions, we need to see more games on television, then people might be more interested.

Voice 5: People don't watch it because it isn't very good – it's as simple as that. I've watched some women's football, and to be honest, they don't play very well. They're slower than men - they aren't as good technically, the games are boring. Men's football is good to watch, women's isn't. Maybe that'll change in the future, but at the moment, well, I certainly don't want to watch it.

Tess: Interesting. What do you think Ravi?

Ravi: Well, to be honest, I've never watched a women's football game, but now I think I will – just to see what it's like.

Tess: Me too. I agree.

Section 6 – Carolina

Section 6 - Exercise 1

Put the conversation in the right order. You can cut the phrases up and arrange them, or write the number in the space on the left. The first one has been done for you. You can check your answers with the transcript at the end of this section.

1	Lost luggage clerk: Yes, that's right, from erm, Caracas, a blue bag.
	Lost luggage clerk: Oh, erm, sorry, black, not blue. ... He's looking for it now. ... Yeah ... yeah ... yeah, yeah that's the name. Yeah that's right. OK, thanks Ben.
	Carolina: Oh thank you so much.
	Lost luggage clerk: Yes - this is your lucky day. One of the baggage handlers is bringing it up now, so you can identify it.
	Carolina: Have you found it? Is it my bag?
	Carolina: No, no it isn't blue , it's black .

Section 6 – Exercise 2

Look at these conversations that Carolina had at Heathrow airport. Put the expressions in the right places.

And do I need to change trains?	it's very easy to find	We call it the tube here.	I have to get to
How long does it take?	which train goes to	the dark blue one	The tube takes

Carolina: [1] _____ King's Cross station to get the train to Newcastle at eight o'clock. [2] _____ Have I got enough time?

Lost luggage clerk: By tube or train?

Carolina: Tube? I don't understand.

Lost luggage clerk: The underground, you know, the metro. [3] _____

Carolina: Yes, on the tube.

Lost luggage clerk: You've got plenty of time. [4] _____ about an hour – probably less at this time of the evening. Don't worry – [5] _____ the station - just follow the signs.

Baggage handler: Here you are love - one black bag from Caracas.

Carolina: Yes, that's mine. Thank you.

Lost luggage clerk: Could you sign your name here...

Carolina: Excuse me. Could you tell me [6] _____ King's Cross station please?

Tube worker: Piccadilly line miss -[7] _____ on the map. Just follow the signs to the platform. You want an eastbound train – you're going east.

Carolina: [8] _____

Tube worker: No, Heathrow and Kings Cross are both on the Piccadilly line. You don't need to change.

Carolina: Thank you

Answers: see Answer page at the end of this document

Section 6 – Exercise 3

Look again at Carolina's conversations.

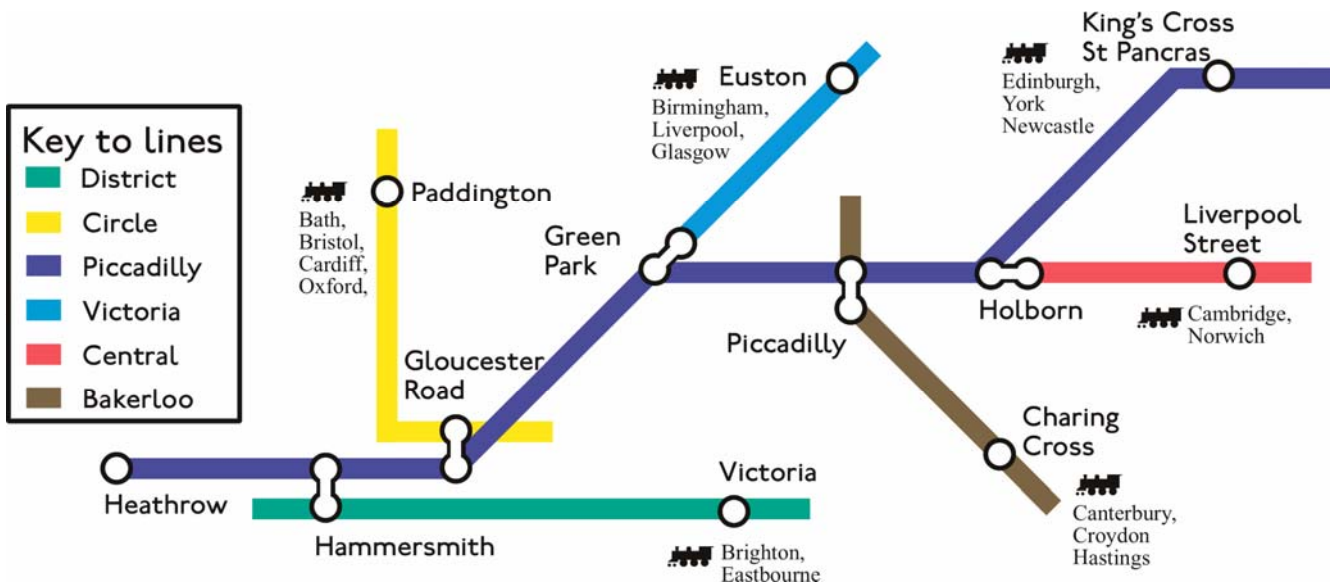

Choose all the things the people can say – there is always more than one correct answer.

1. _____ King's Cross station to get the train to Newcastle at eight o'clock.
a) I need to get to
b) I have to get to
c) It's necessary to get to
d) I want to get to
2. _____ Have I got enough time?
a) How far is it?
b) How long does it take?
c) How long do I take?
d) How long will it take?
3. Tube? I don't understand.
The underground, you know, the metro. _____
a) We call it 'the tube' here.
b) It calls 'the tube' here.
c) People say 'the tube' here.
d) It's called 'the tube' here
4. You've got plenty of time. _____ about an hour – probably less at this time of the evening.
a) It takes
b) You take
c) The tube takes
d) It'll take
5. Don't worry – _____ the station - just follow the signs.
a) it's very easy to find
b) it's very easy to get to
c) it isn't difficult to find
d) it's very easy to arrive at
6. Excuse me. Could you tell me _____ King's Cross station please?
a) where is
b) which train I need for
c) which train goes to
d) how to get to
7. Piccadilly line, miss – _____ on the map. Just follow the signs to the platform. You want an eastbound train – you're going east.
a) the one dark blue
b) the dark blue one
c) the dark blue line
d) the one that's dark blue
8. _____ ?
No, Heathrow and Kings Cross are both on the Piccadilly line. You don't need to change.
a) Do I need to change trains?
b) Do I have to change trains?
c) Am I changing trains?
d) Have I got to change trains?

Section 6 – Exercise 4

Look at this simplified diagram of part of the London underground system. (It's in colour, so you need to try and print this on a colour printer or look at the diagram on the screen). Now look at the dialogue. Sara is at Heathrow Airport tube station and she is talking to the person at the information desk. Read the dialogue and follow the instructions on the diagram.

- Information officer: Can I help you?
 Sara: Yes please. I have to get the train to Bristol. Which station is that?
 Information officer: Trains to Bristol leave from Paddington Station.
 Sara: How long does it take to get to Paddington by tube?
 Information officer: About an hour. The Piccadilly line trains leave every four minutes.
 Sara: And do I have to change trains?
 Information officer: Yes you do. Take the Piccadilly line to Gloucester Road and then change to the Circle Line.
 Sara: The Circle Line?
 Information officer: That's right. It's the yellow one on the map. You want to get a northbound train. Paddington Station is north of Gloucester Road.

Now look at the diagram again. Imagine that you need to get a train to one of the cities, maybe Brighton or Oxford. What information would you ask for and what would the information officer tell you? Practise the dialogue with a friend, or you can write it on a sheet of paper.

Carolina – the transcript

Ravi: OK. Now, it's time to meet Carolina again. Carolina is from Venezuela and she's visiting Britain for the first time. It's a big adventure for her – she's going to live, study and, she hopes, have a good time here in the UK – and we're going with her! In the last podcast we listened to a conversation that Carolina had at Heathrow airport in London. Do you remember what happened Tess?

Tess: Yep - she lost her luggage. She was waiting at the Lost Luggage desk to see if they could find it.

Ravi: That's right. Let's listen to what happened next.

Lost luggage clerk: Yes, that's right, from erm, Caracas, a blue bag.

Carolina: No, no it isn't blue, it's black.

Lost luggage clerk: Oh, erm, sorry, black, not blue. ... He's looking for it now. ... Yeah ... yeah ... yeah, yeah that's the name. Yeah that's right. OK, thanks Ben.

Carolina: Have you found it? Is it my bag?

Lost luggage clerk: Yes - this is your lucky day. One of the baggage handlers is bringing it up now, so you can identify it.

Carolina: Oh thank you so much. Erm, I have to get to King's Cross station to get the train to Newcastle at eight o'clock. How long does it take? Have I got enough time?

Lost luggage clerk: By tube or train?

Carolina: Tube? I don't understand.

Lost luggage clerk: The underground, you know, the metro. We call it the tube here.

Carolina: Yes, on the tube.

Lost luggage clerk: You've got plenty of time. The tube takes about an hour – probably less at this time of the evening. Don't worry - it's very easy to find the station - just follow the signs.

Baggage handler: Here you are love - one black bag from Caracas.

Carolina: Yes, that's mine. Thank you.

Lost luggage clerk: Could you sign your name here

Carolina: Excuse me. Could you tell me which train goes to King's Cross station please?

Tube worker: Piccadilly line miss - the dark blue one on the map. Just follow the signs to the platform. You want an eastbound train – you're going east.

Carolina: And do I need to change trains?

Tube worker: No, Heathrow and Kings Cross are both on the Piccadilly line. You don't need to change.

Carolina: Thank you

Tube worker: Miss! You need to buy a ticket first! You can't go into the station without a ticket.

Carolina: Oh, OK.

Tube worker: The ticket machines are over there.

Carolina: Oh, thank you – but I haven't got any English money yet – I didn't have time to change any in the airport.

Tube worker: The machines take Visa or MasterCard.

Carolina: Oh good. I've got a Visa card. Thank you.

Tube worker: Then you just put your ticket into the slot to go through the turnstile over there. Put your ticket in and you'll see a green light – then you can go through. And look after your ticket – don't lose it – you'll need to put it into the slot again when you leave the tube station at King's Cross.

Carolina: OK. Thank you for your help.

Section 7 – The Joke

Section 7 - Exercise 1

Read the sentences below, and put them in the right order.

You can either cut them up and arrange them or write the number in the space on the left.

	So, he bought the swimming pool and went home. The next week the man came back again. "He's still not talking" he said.
	The shop assistant said "I'm sorry sir, but you have to teach your parrot to speak."
	"Yes he did. But only one thing."
	So the man bought a parrot and took it home with him. A week later he went back to the pet shop. "My parrot still doesn't speak", he said.
	So the man bought the mirror and went away. A week later he came back a final time.
	A man went into a pet shop one day. "I'd like a parrot that talks", he said.
	"Oh dear. Buy this mirror. He'll swim in the pool, get out and look at himself, then talk."
	"Give me food!"
	"Really? What was that?"
	"Oh, dear! I'm very sorry about that, sir – but tell me, before he died, did he say anything?"
	"My parrot is dead", he said.
	"Oh, really? Well, perhaps he's bored. You should buy this little swimming pool. He can have a swim and then he might talk", explained the shop assistant.

Section 7 – Exercise 2

Now try to tell the joke yourself. Use these words to help you. When you see a slash (/) it means that one or more words are missing. Then check your answers – the transcript is on the Answer page at the end of this document

- A man / pet shop. “I / parrot / talks”
- The shop assistant / “sorry / teach / parrot / speak”
- So / bought / parrot / home with him.
- A week later / pet shop. “My parrot / speak”.
- “Really? / perhaps / bored. You / little swimming pool. / swim / then / talk”.
- So / swimming pool and / home.
- The next week / again. / “not talking”.
- “Oh dear. / this mirror. / swim / pool / look at himself / talk”
- Man / mirror / away.
- A week later / final time. “ / dead”.
- “Oh dear! / sorry / tell me / before / say anything?”
- “Yes / one thing”
- “Really? What / ?”
- “ / food!”

See the Answers page for the complete transcript

Tom the teacher

Tom the teacher – Exercise 1

Do you remember that Tom talked about the pronunciation of ‘could’? The ‘l’ is silent – we don’t pronounce it. Can you decide if these words have silent letters? Put them in the right place.

expensive	designer	clothes	horrible	piano	hours	would honestly	studying	difficult	stadium	should	listen	island

These words have a silent letter	These words don’t have a silent letter

Answers: see Answer page at the end of this document

Tom the teacher – Exercise 2

Fill the spaces with ‘at’, ‘for’, ‘after’ or ‘forward to’.

1. Look _____ my new shirt Tess! Don’t you think it’s beautiful?
2. Ravi’s looking _____ the 2010 football World Cup.
3. I need to find someone to look _____ my cat when I go away on holiday.
4. A: Hurry up! What are you doing now?
B: I’m looking _____ my keys. Have you seen them anywhere?
5. Don’t look _____ the answers yet. That’s cheating!
6. Can you look _____ my bag while I go and get an ice-cream?

Fill the spaces with 'at', 'for', 'after' or 'forward to'.

7. Don't forget dinner on Friday. My mother's looking _____ meeting you.
8. A: Can I help you?
B: I don't know. I'm looking _____ Titanic on DVD. Have you got it?
9. [at the end of a letter]
I'm looking _____ hearing from you soon.
Best wishes,
Jennifer Roberts
10. My brother's out of hospital now. He said the doctors looked _____ him very well.

Answers: see Answer page at the end of this document

Tom the teacher – Exercise 3

Now circle the silent letter in each of these words.

1. could	2. designer	3. hours	4. island
5. would	6. listen	7. honestly	8. should

Tom the teacher – Exercise 4

Write the correct form of 'look' (with 'at', 'after', 'for' or 'forward to') so that the second sentence means the same as the first.

1. I'm really excited about the party on Saturday.
I'm really _____ the party on Saturday.
2. Could you take care of the children for a few hours tomorrow?
Could you _____ the children for a few hours tomorrow?
3. Excuse me. I want a black T-shirt in size 42. Have you got any?
Excuse me. I'm _____ a black T-shirt in size 42. Have you got any?
4. Do you want to see our holiday photos?
Do you want to _____ our holiday photos?
5. Be careful with your handbag on the train. Someone might steal it.
_____ your handbag on the train. Someone might steal it.
6. So John's coming on Friday! Are you excited about seeing him?
So John's coming on Friday! Are you _____ seeing him?
7. I hate my job! I think I'm going to try and find a new one.
I hate my job! I think I'm going to _____ a new one.
8. We went to see three new houses last weekend, but we didn't like any of them.
We _____ three new houses last weekend, but we didn't like any of them.

Answers: see Answer page at the end of this document

Answers

While you listen - Answers

1) a, c; 2) a, a, c, d; 3) c; 4) a, b, c; 5) b; 6) a, b, d; 7) a, c; 8) a, b

Section 1 – "Is that a new shirt?" - Answers

Helen: You're looking very nice today Stella. Is that a new dress?

Stella: Yes, it is. Do you like it?

Helen: It's great. It really suits you.

Stella: Thanks. I'm not sure about the colour. I don't usually wear red.

Helen: Don't be silly, it looks fantastic. It goes really well with your skin colour. Where did you get it?

Stella: That little shop at the top of the road, you know, next to the café. I went in there yesterday looking for a T shirt, and then I saw this. They had them in other colours too, I wanted the black really...

Helen: You always wear black!

Stella: ...but they only had red ones in my size, so I tried it on, and I really liked it.

Helen: Was it very expensive?

Stella: No. It wasn't in the sale, but it was only £40, well £39.99 actually. I think that's cheap for a dress nowadays.

Helen: Not bad at all. You should have bought two!

Stella: I might go back tomorrow and get another one. I feel really good in it.

Helen: You look a bit like Kate Moss.

Stella: Kate Moss! I wish! Did you see that article about her in the paper yesterday? Apparently she uses this really expensive face cream all over her body. It costs about a thousand pounds for a pot or something.....

Section 3 - Quiz - Answers

green: a cucumber; a frog; grass; a lime red: blood; a fire engine; a strawberry; a tomato white: milk; a polar bear; snow; a washing machine

blue: jeans; a swimming pool; the sea; the sky

Section 6 - Carolina - Exercise 2 - Answers

1. I have to get to

2. How long does it take?

3. We call it the tube here.

4. The tube takes

5. it's very easy to find

6. which train goes to

7. the dark blue one

8. And do I need to change trains?

Section 6 – Exercise 3 - Answers

1) a, b, d; 2) a, b, d; 3) a, c, d; 4) a, c, d; 5) a, b, c;

6) b, c, d; 7) b, c, d; 8) a, b, d

Section 7: the Joke: transcript

Gordon: A man went into a pet shop one day. "I'd like a parrot that talks", he said. The shop assistant said "I'm sorry sir, but you have to teach your parrot to speak." So the man bought a parrot and took it home with him. A week later he went back to the pet shop. "My parrot still doesn't speak", he said. "Oh, really? Well, perhaps he's bored. You should buy this little swimming pool. He can have a swim and then he might talk", explained the shop assistant. So, he bought the swimming pool and went home. The next week the man came back again. "He's still not talking" he said. "Oh dear. Buy this mirror. He'll swim in the pool, get out and look at himself, then talk." So the man bought the mirror and went away. A week later he came back a final time. "My parrot is dead", he said. "Oh, dear! I'm very sorry about that, sir – but tell me, before he died, did he say anything?" "Yes he did. But only one thing." "Really? What was that?" "Give me food!"
Tess: Gordon! That's horrible! He didn't give it any food! Oh, poor parrot!

Tom the teacher - Exercise 1 - Answers

These words have a silent letter: designer; island; would; should; hours; listen; honestly.

These words don't have a silent letter: clothes; expensive; studying; difficult; piano; stadium; horrible.

Tom the teacher – Exercise 2 - Answers

1) at; 2) forward to; 3) after; 4) for; 5) at; 6) after; 7) forward to; 8) for; 9) forward to; 10) after.

Tom the teacher – Exercise 3 - Answers

1. could: L
2. designer: G
3. hours: H
4. island: S
5. would: L
6. listen: T
7. honestly: H
8. should: L

Tom the teacher – Exercise 4 - Answers

1. looking forward to
2. look after
3. looking for
4. look at
5. Look after
6. looking forward to
7. look for
8. looked at